On October 8, 2020, Pashman Stein Walder Hayden attorney's Svetlana (Lana) Ros and Rachel E. Simon will present Getting Into the Weeds with Medical Marijuana for the NJ Center for Tourette Syndrome & Associated Disorders, Inc. (NJCTS)

Program: Getting Into the Weeds with Medical Marijuana
Thursday, October 8, 2020 3:00 P.M.

Medical marijuana has been approved for the treatment of Tourette Syndrome. However, it is not always easy to understand how to navigate the process for acquiring medical marijuana or what to expect. Join this session as we discuss how the process works and what you need to know.

The decision to use medical marijuana is a very personal choice and being able to make an informed decision is critical. Don't miss this opportunity to learn more and get your questions answered.

Lana Ros is a partner at the law firm of Pashman Stein Walder Hayden, and is the chair of the Firm's Health Care Practice. She works with physicians, dentists, nurses, and other health care professionals, as well as health care businesses, to help them navigate the complex and constantly evolving legal health care environment. Additionally, Lana is a sought-after presenter and frequently lectures throughout New Jersey and New York on wide ranging legal issues affecting healthcare professionals.

Rachel E. Simon concentrates her practice on complex litigation matters on behalf of individuals, businesses, and entities in both the public and private sectors. She has represented clients before every level of the Federal and New Jersey State courts, including the United States Supreme Court and New Jersey Supreme Court. Rachel is sought after for her legal analysis, commercial practicality, and creative problem-solving. She serves as second trial chair to Pashman Stein partner Raymond M. Brown. Recently, she has been counseling public entities in COVID-19 emergency response, as well as managing their COVID-related litigation.
