

In several related complex commercial and estate disputes, collaborated with a team of prominent attorneys to successfully defend an individual client and his family business against multiple lawsuits brought in state and federal courts seeking to recover hundreds of millions of dollars. The disputes resulted in several complex trials involving contract, guardianship, undue influence, accounting, and promissory estoppel claims in various chancery courts, resulting in multiple successful defense decisions for the client.