
Represented physicians in a federal RICO suit brought by an insurance carrier alleging that the physicians submitted fraudulent claims under automobile-insurance policies. The case involved complex issues relating to the interaction of federal and New Jersey law and the regulation of no-fault insurance policies in New Jersey.

RELATED ATTORNEYS

David N. Cinotti
