Bruce Rosen, partner at Pashman Stein Walder Hayden, was featured in the Law360 article "Top McCusker Anselmi Attys Exit for Duane Morris, Pashman." The article discusses Rosen's decision to join Pashman Stein:

Likewise, Rosen said he made the jump to Pashman Stein because of his collaborative relationship with the firm and its reputation for excellence.

"Pashman Stein has a tremendous team of lawyers, many of whom I have known and worked with for years, who are dedicated to providing their clients with the highest level of service, and I am pleased to be joining such a well-respected firm," he said in a statement.

Rosen brought with him one professional staff member to Pashman Stein, according to the firm.

Rosen, a former newspaper reporter, has more than 35 years of experience in high profile First Amendment matters, commercial litigation and criminal defense. A large portion of his practice is dedicated to defending news organizations.
