Pashman Stein Walder Hayden attorney J. John Kim quoted in ABC News for representing client claiming racial discrimination while working at the L'Oreal USA counter at Bloomingdale's flagship store in New York. The article "Fired Bloomingdale's Employee Sues Over Alleged Discrimination" written by Aaron Katersky was posted on May 21, 2019.

"Upon exiting the room, she was immediately confronted by NYPD who arrested, charged and processed her, and she spent the night in a prison holding cell, according to Kang's lawyer, J. John Kim of Pashman Stein."
