

Pashman Stein Walder Hayden named Appellate Litigation Department of the Year by The New Jersey Law Journal for the Third Year in a Row

RELATED PRACTICE AREAS

Litigation

News

June 3, 2020

Pashman Stein Walder Hayden (PSWH) is pleased to announce that its Appellate Litigation practice group has been named Appellate Litigation Department of the Year by the New Jersey Law Journal's Professional Excellence Awards 2020. This is the third year in a row that the PSWH's Appellate Litigation practice group has achieved this recognition.

In addition, CJ Griffin was named "Attorney of the Year Finalist" and Erik Corlett was named one of the "Unsung Heroes" in the NJLJ Professional Excellence Awards 2020.

"Especially because there are so many outstanding Appellate practitioners in our region, we are humbled by the New Jersey Law Journal's recognition, once again, of the important work, both public and private, performed by our Appellate Litigation Department. That we have received this award three years in a row is immensely gratifying to me and, I have no doubt, a great source of pride to all of the lawyers and staff at our Firm. And we couldn't be more proud of CJ Griffin for being named 'Attorney of the Year Finalist' and Erik Corlett for being named one of the 'Unsung Heroes.' CJ continues to fight the good fight, all to the betterment of the public for whom she serves. And sung or unsung, you will not find a better lawyer or finer human being than Erik Corlett. No one is more deserving of these awards," remarked Michael S. Stein, Managing Partner.

The announcement of the awards by the New Jersey Law Journal can be found here.