

Pashman Stein Walder Hayden Quoted in Article on Monmouth County as New Jersey's Next Legal Center

News

11.26.19

Pashman Stein Walder Hayden quoted in The New Jersey Law Journal article, "Is Monmouth County New Jersey's Next Legal Center?" The article explains the number of law firms who have opened offices in Monmouth County this year.

Pashman Stein Walder Hayden, based in Hackensack, opened its original office there in downtown Red Bank in early 2017, and earlier this year executed a 10-year lease of about 6,500 square feet in the Bell Works in Holmdel. Managing partner Michael S. Stein said in a statement at the time that the firm's lawyers "have deep roots in Monmouth County and share a dedication to serving our clients with pride and determination."

To read the full article, click here.