Tracy Julian, Chair of the Family Law Group, was quoted in Law360 article, "COVID-19 Makes For Socially Distanced NJ Bar Convention." Julian discusses the plan for the 2020 NJ Bar Convention amid COVID-19.

"Given our circumstances, the bar's ability to adapt and create this symposium is pretty admirable," said Tracy Julian, a Pashman Stein Walder Hayden PC partner who specializes in commercial litigation and family law.

A member of the association's Family Law section, the Holmdel, New Jersey-based attorney has become accustomed to coronavirus cancellations. The section's annual retreat, a Nashville getaway that had been scheduled for March, was also a no-go this year, she said.

Still, "there's a desire to connect and we'll just have to figure out a way to do it," she said of the convention's remaining networking possibilities.
